20.09.2013

O. KLEINER AG purchases the latest in Digital Printing - the HP 20000

O. KLEINER AG will bring on stream in April 2014 the world's first commercial, fully functional example of the HP 20000 machine.

The machine offers following advantages over the WS 6600:

- printing width has been more than doubled (now 736 mm)
- this new width will ensure more than 80% of all customer requirements can be met
- increased production speeds

With this new printing machine (and after their 2011 investment in the WS 6600 printer) , O. KLEINER AG is once again investing in the very latest production scale technology within Digital Printing and is, not for the first time, taking on a pioneering role.

After 13 years, 5600 orders and 8 million running meters of digital printing experience, O. KLEINER AG possesses all the necessary know-how to be the ideal partner for HP when investing in the next DD-machine generation for Flexible Packaging.

The new machine will ensure that the important growth seen by O. KLEINER AG in order quantities and size can readily be met.
